Vision Film Series @ Anthology Film Archives

The Vision Festival is the world's premier avant jazz celebration. This year, in collaboration with Anthology Film Archives, we inaugurate an accompanying film series. In the wake of - shall we say - rather than criticism of Ken Burns' Jazz, a few gaps in the living story are highlighted and some of the better questions answered.

SATURDAY, JUNE 2nd

PROGRAM #1 - SATURDAY, JUNE 2 @ 3pm

Moira Tierney

The Boys Are Back In Town

2000, 1 minute, 16mm

An eye-level audience account of the Cecil Taylor and Max Roach concert held on the lawn at Columbia University last summer, shot in beautiful black and white.

Ebba Jahn

Rising Tones Cross

1984, 120 minutes

Partly filmed during the Sound Unity Festival of 1984 - the predecessor of the Vision Festival - this film is a very fine documentation of the same, as well as an intimate documentary of "pre-discovery" CHARLES GAYLE. Features interviews with WILLIAM PARKER and PETER KOWALD, and performance footage of groups led by Parker, Kowald, CHARLES TYLER, DON CHERRY, BILLY BANG, JEMEEL MOONDOC, and PETER BRÖTZMANN (with Brötzmann, Gayle, David S. Ware, and Frank Wright on tenor simultaneously!)

PROGRAM #2 - SATURDAY, JUNE 2 @ 5pm

Coco Schrijber

In Motion

1994, 18 minutes, 16mm

Mid-town Manhattan filmed at night while riding in a cab driven by David S. Ware who simultaneously expounds on his philosophy of creativity.

Music by the David S. Ware Quartet.

Robert Fenz

Vertical Air

27 minutes

VERTICAL AIR, a film and music collaboration, creates a sensorial testimony of the democratic ideal through the exploration of the distinct relationship between sound and image, using iconic American imagery, graphic abstraction and a powerful piece of music composed by jazz innovator Wadada Leo Smith.

Edward English with Sun Ra Spaceways color, sound, 18 min.

Mysterious film by the interstellar man of mystery, putatively made in 1968 in collaboration with the Arkestra mastermind himself.

SUNDAY, JUNE 3rd

PROGRAM #3 - SUNDAY, JUNE 3 @ 3pm

Patrick A. Gaucher

Continuum: Why The Jazz Establishment Can't Hold Down Matthew Shipp

2001, 50 minutes

"CONTINUUM is a musically interlaced tour, through the time & space germinating a musician. While nurturing his music, Matthew Shipp pumps his DNA through tiny arteries of communication, to an audience tourniqueted by dogged, corporate ideas of jazz." -Patrick A. Gaucher

Harry Smith

Mirror Animations

10 1/2 minutes,

"An exposition of Buddhism and the Kaballa in the form of a collage. The final scene shows Aquaric mushrooms (not in No. 11) growing on the moon while the Hero and Heroine row by on a cerebrum." – Harry Smith The soundt for this journey is "Misterioso" as performed by Thelonious Monk.

PROGRAM #4 - SUNDAY, JUNE 3 @ 5pm

Elliot Jokelson

Mesmerized

10 minutes, video.

Auguste VarkalisBird

1997-2001, 8 minutes, 16mm.

Renaissance Man Auguste Varkalis- painter, filmmaker, musician, poet-privileges us with a rare screening of this abstract peek at the face and essence of Charlie Parker. Live accompaniment will be provided by Daniel Carter and Sabir Mateen.

Michael Lucio SternbachDown To The Crux

2000, 45 minutes, video Whatever Ken Burns might have to say on the subject free jazz was one of the most important politically and socially aware art form of the 1960s, and it remains so to this day. The development of free jazz in the 60s paralleled that of the civil rights movement and their histories are uniquely intertwined. Down To The Crux is a music documentary that moves beyond the sounds to examine the context within which they were created. Weaving together archival footage of protests and street riots with musical performances and interviews with the likes of William Parker, David S. Ware, Bill Dixon, Peter Brötzmann, Alan Silva, Marshall Allen and Archie Shepp, Down To The Crux captures the art form's fiery message of freedom and transcendence, and its attempts to break down both musical and social barriers.
